

GENRES OF LITERATURE

GRADE 7

WHAT IS GENRE?

Genre is derived from a French word genre meaning “kind” or “type”. Genre is the organization of literature into categories like poetry, drama, fiction, and nonfiction based on the type of writing the piece exemplifies through its content, form, or style.

GENRES OF LITERATURE

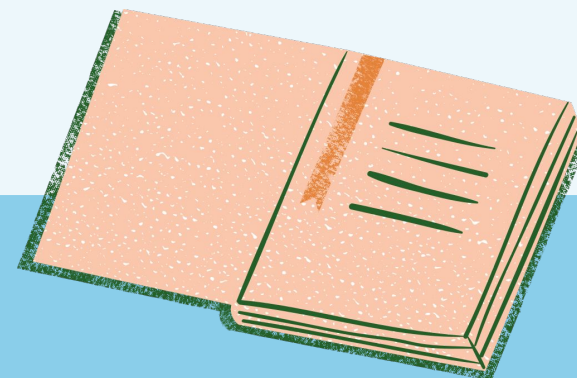

Poetry

Poetry uses language to evoke emotions, convey ideas, and paint vivid images. It often follows a structured pattern and may include rhyme and is composed of lines arranged in stanzas.

Prose

Prose is written in sentences and paragraphs and can be fiction or nonfiction.

Drama

Drama tells a story in prose or verse but is specifically written to be performed on stage.

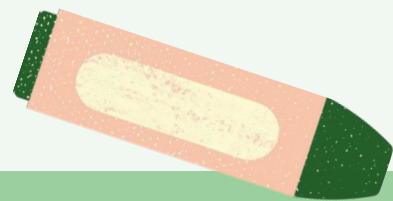

JUMP INTO A GENRE

It's time to unleash your creativity! Choose ONE option below to complete.'

Poem

Imagine your favorite season. Create a poem that captures what you like about it. Use some rhymes and vivid language in your composition.

Drama Script

Write a dialogue between a person you know and your favorite character. You can turn them into an amazing hero or a mysterious detective. Add stage directions and other details.

Prose

Think of an exciting trip or experience you recently had and write about it as a story or an essay. Make sure to describe your setting clearly and include key details.

WORD
COUNT: 100
WORDS
MAX!

Remember to share your writing with your elbow partner!

FICTION VS NONFICTION

Fiction Vs. Non-Fiction ²³

"Story" Talk (Make Believe) | "Fact" Talk (True Information)

* Read to ENJOY

* Must read in order

* Can have a theme, moral or lesson for the reader to learn

* Doesn't always give the reader information directly (must infer/draw conclusions)

* Not based on true events

* Uses literary elements:
plot, setting, theme, characterization, point of view, conflict

* Read to LEARN

* Can read in almost any order

* Can inform the reader or teach "How to" do something

* The information is usually given directly to the reader

* Based on real events/Information

* Uses text features:
table of contents, index, charts, glossary, graphs, lists, pictures, illustrations, diagrams, captions, timelines, labels, bold/italicized words, etc.

Purpose: Entertain

Purpose: Inform

LEARNING TARGET

- I can identify the different sub-genres of non-fiction texts.
- I can explain the characteristics of different non fiction texts using textual evidence.

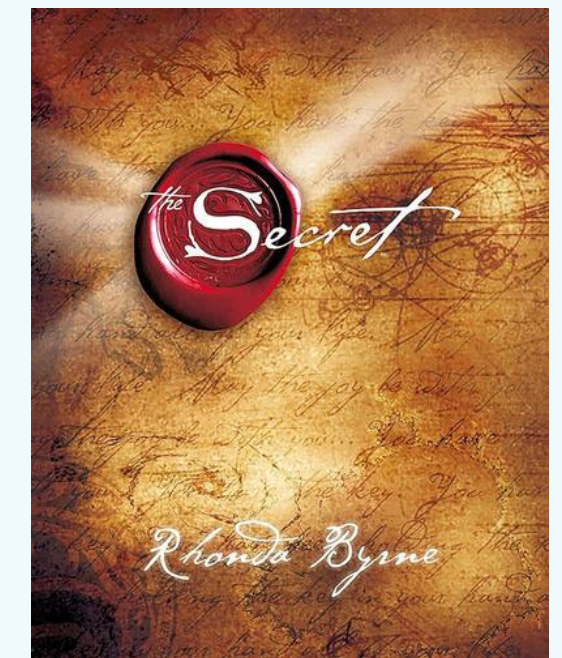

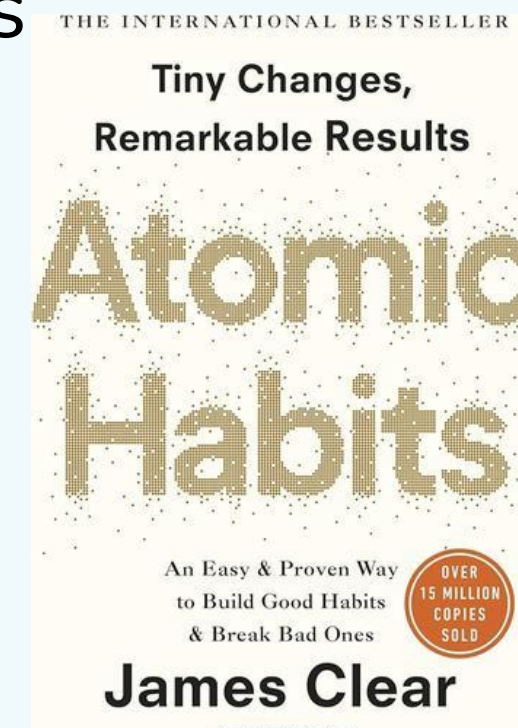

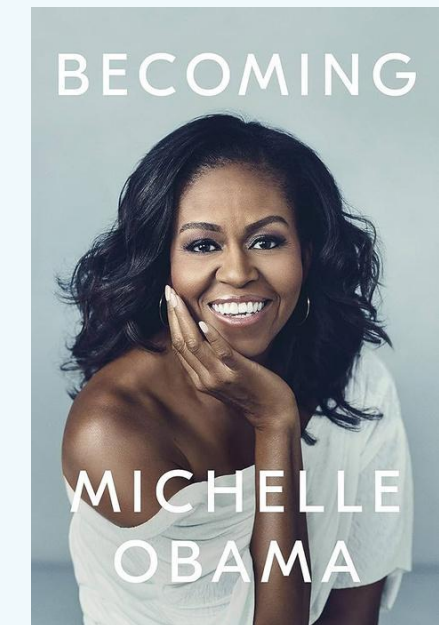

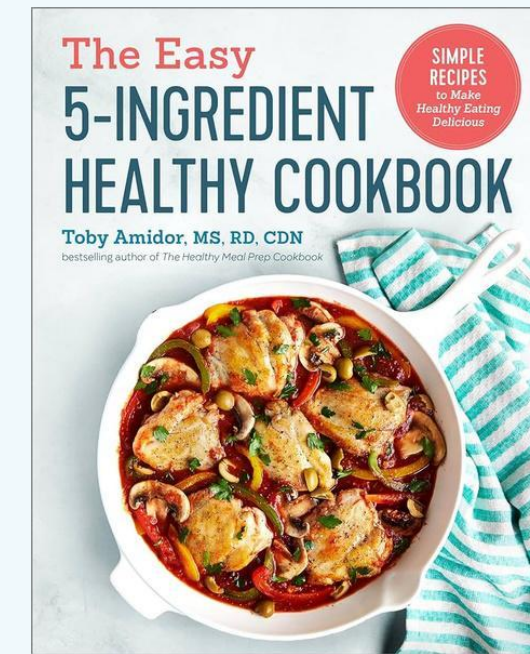

NON FICTION

Nonfiction is a genre of literature based on facts. The people, events, and settings in nonfiction writing are real. It includes information that is true and can be verified.

Nonfiction is literature that, regardless of the subject matter, has a simple goal: to provide information.

It should be based on facts and conclusions of the author's research or expertise, as opposed to the creativity of the author's imagination.

Examples: diaries, biographies, news stories, encyclopaedias, textbooks, travel books, recipes, and scientific journals.

Non-Fiction

```
graph TD; A[Non-Fiction] --> B[Told like a story]; A --> C[Not told like a story]; B --> D[Biography]; B --> E[Autobiography]; B --> F[Memoir]; C --> G[Expository Texts]; C --> H[Procedural /How-to Texts]; C --> I[Persuasive Texts];
```

Told like a story

Biography

Autobiography

Memoir

Not told like a story

Expository Texts

Procedural /How-to Texts

Persuasive Texts

TOLD LIKE A STORY
(Biographical Texts)

Autobiography	Biography	Memoir
A story that tells you about a person, his life, his experiences. The story is told by the person himself.	A story told by another person that provides factual information in narrative style about all or a part of a person's life.	A memoir is a collection of certain memories written by the person himself/herself.
Characteristics: • About the person himself or herself. • Portrays life experiences and achievements of a person. • Told in 1st person (I, me). • Focus on 1 person • Broad in scope or timeline, often covering the author's entire life up to the present. • Focused more on facts than emotions • More subjective as it is written with feelings based on their own memories.	Characteristics: • About a real person. • Give facts about the person's life. • Told in a 3rd person (he, she, they). • Looks more like a fiction book. Can use illustrations or photographs. • Can focus on groups of people and not just one person. • Often includes an author's note to give more facts or background. • More formal and objective than both memoirs and autobiographies.	Characteristics: • About the person himself/herself • Focuses on the relationships to feelings about his or her own memories. • Told in 1st person (I, me). • Can look more like a fiction book. • Focused more on feelings and memories than facts. • Less formal compared to autobiographies and biographies.

b. Narrative Nonfiction:

Narrative nonfiction, also known as creative nonfiction or literary nonfiction, is a true story written in the style of a fiction novel. The narrative nonfiction genre contains factual prose that is written in a compelling way—facts told as a story.

Example: In the Garden of Beasts by Erik Larson (2011) is a true account of the career of United States ambassador to Germany, William Dodd, under the reign of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi party during World War II.

Narrative Nonfiction

- Narrative writing style
- Tells a story or conveys an experience
- Real characters, settings, scenes, narrative arc
- Chronological text structure
- STEM biographies/journeys, life cycle stories, books about natural processes

NOT TOLD LIKE A STORY

PROCEDURAL texts

A procedural text tells the reader how to DO or MAKE something. It often includes step by step or sequenced instructions.

EXAMPLES

How To Ski
How To Cook Fried Rice
How To Knit a Scarf

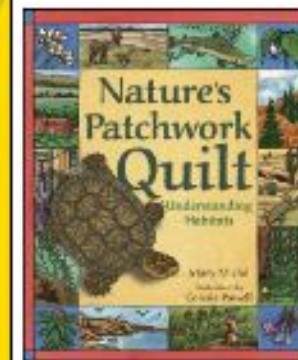

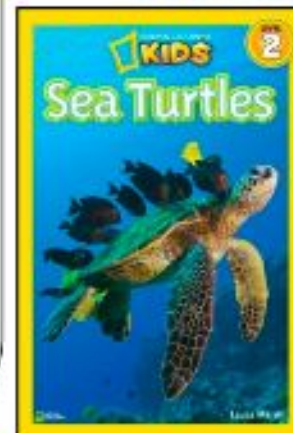

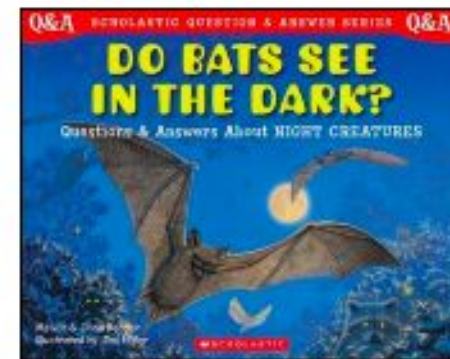

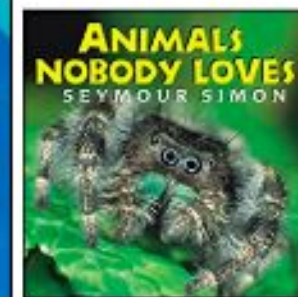

EXPOSITORY

Non-fiction texts that provide facts.

Author's Purpose: To inform or explain.

Characteristics

- Table of Contents.
- Headings.
- Graphics: tables, maps, photos, graphs or other illustrations to enhance the text.
- Glossary: gives definitions for words.
- Index: lists pages where information can be found.

PERSUASIVE texts

The purpose of a PERSUASIVE TEXT is to convince the reader. It is a type of opinion writing. We write about what we think, feel, or believe in order to persuade others.

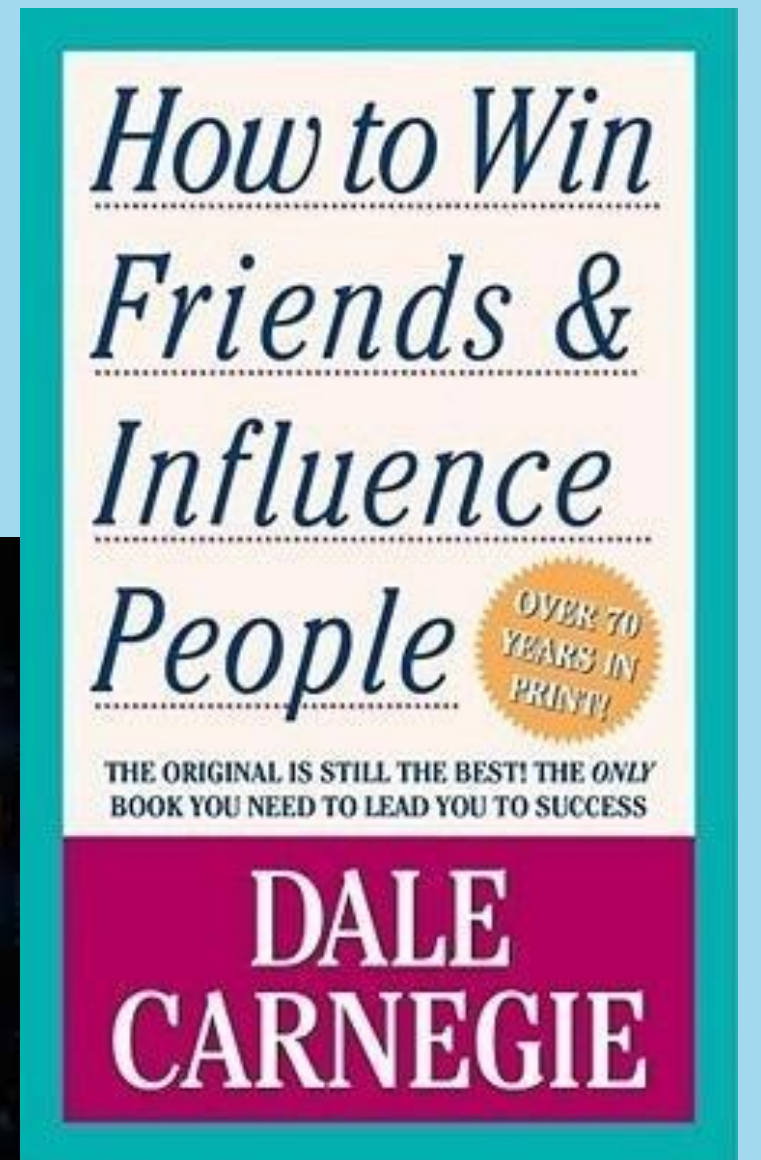

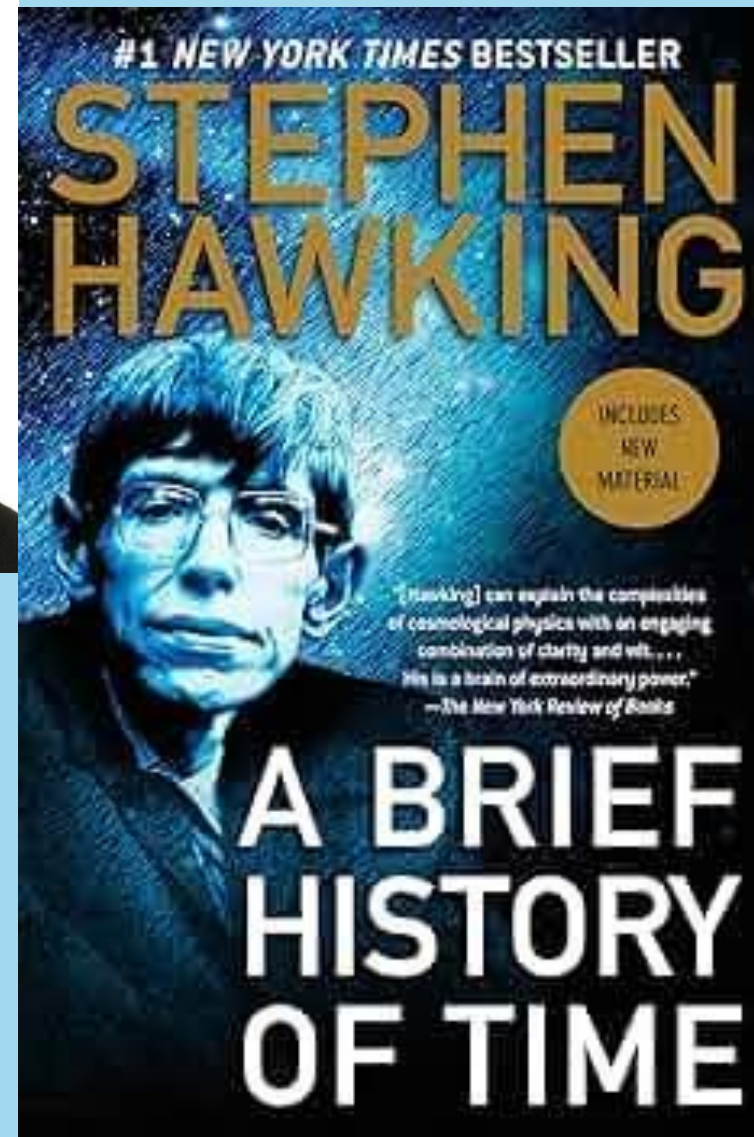

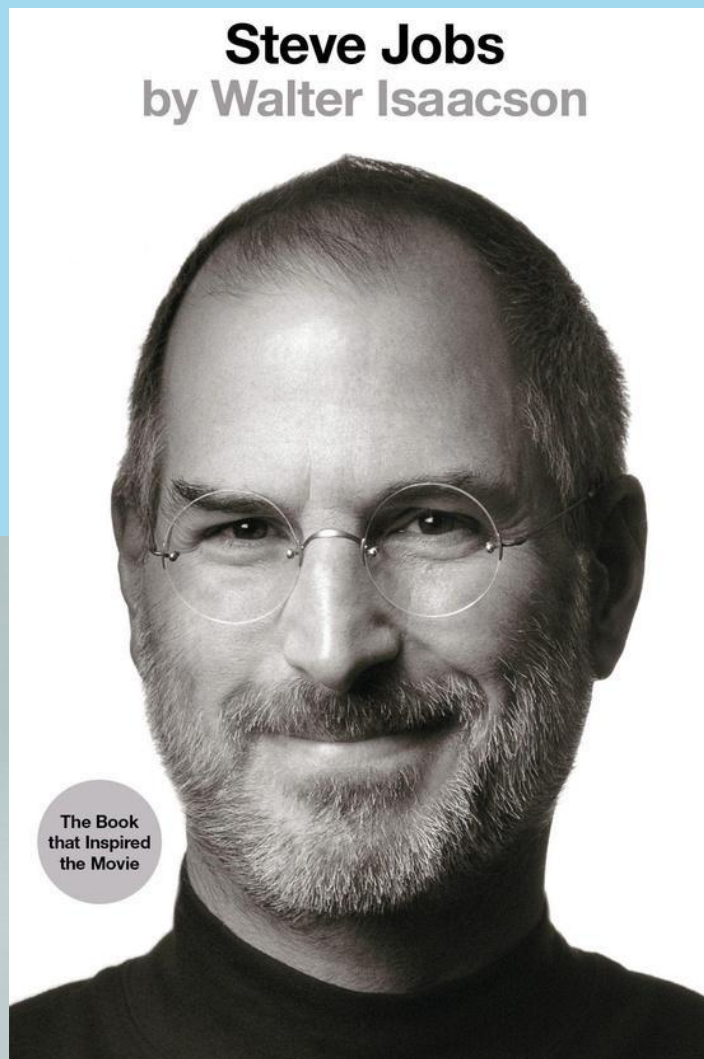

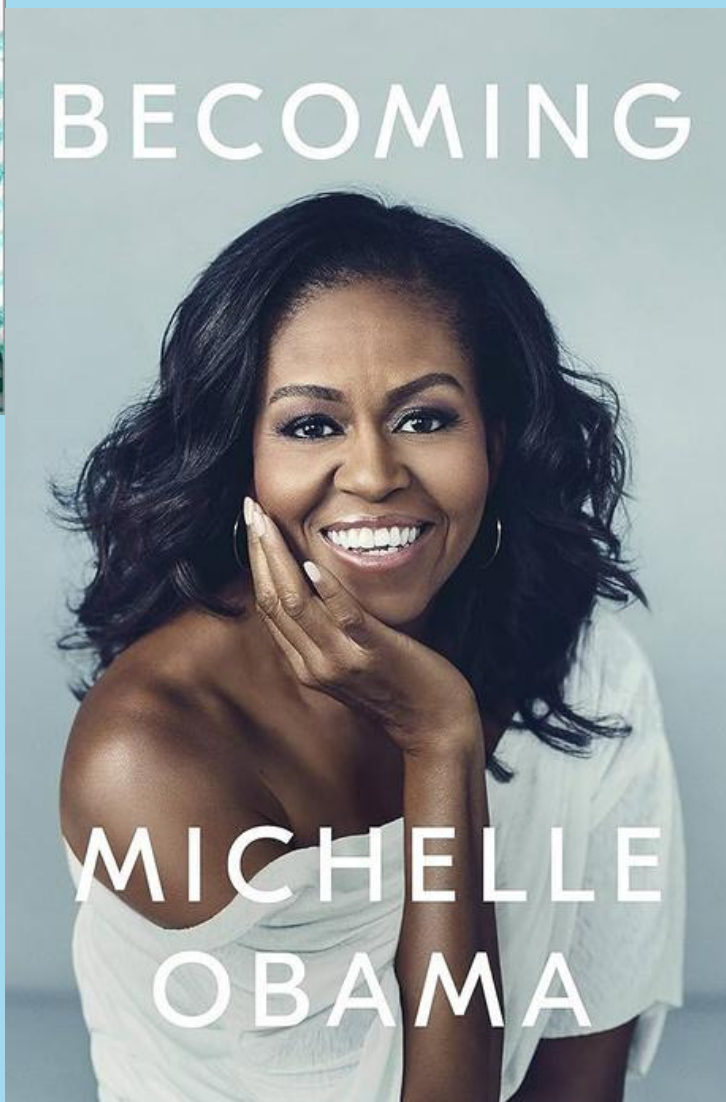

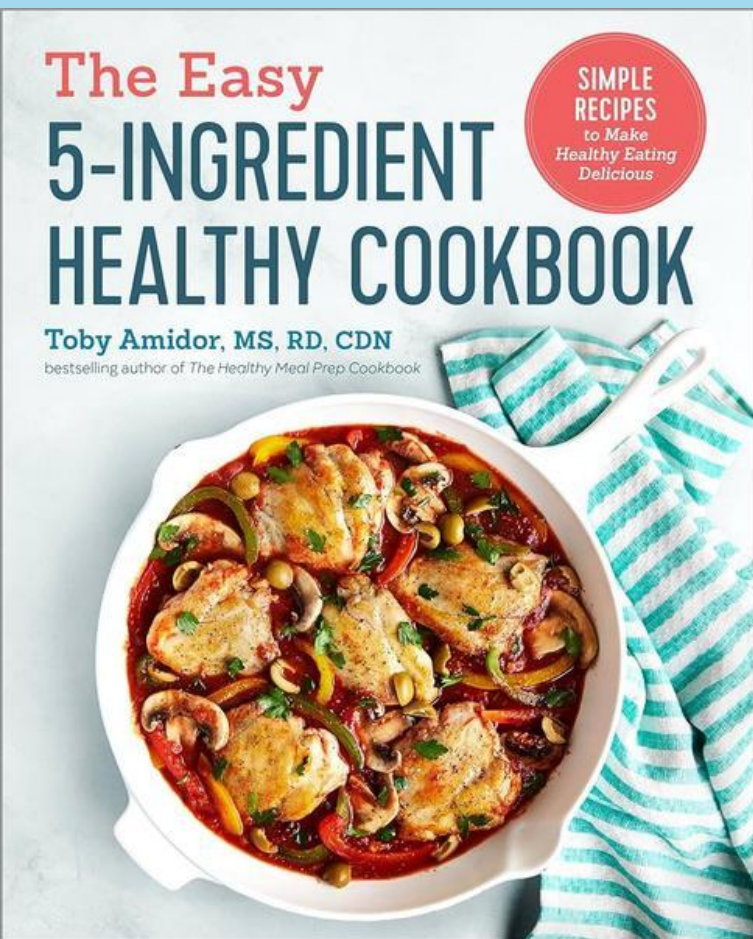

EXAMPLES

- A review.
- A speech.
- An advertisement.
- A letter to the paper.

HAVE A GO

Look at the book covers and identify the sub genre that each book belongs to:

APPLICATION TASK

Respond in your notebooks

(Individual)

"Why Recycling is Essential for Our Planet's Future"

As the world's population continues to grow, so does our impact on the environment. Landfills are overflowing, oceans are becoming polluted with plastic waste, and natural resources are being depleted at an alarming rate. It's clear that we need to take action to reduce our impact on the planet, and recycling is one of the most effective ways to do so.

By recycling, we can reduce the amount of waste that ends up in landfills and conserve valuable resources. Recycling paper, for example, saves trees and energy, while recycling aluminum cans saves energy and reduces greenhouse gas emissions. In addition, recycling creates jobs and supports the economy, as the materials collected are often used to make new products.

Unfortunately, many people still don't see the importance of recycling and continue to throw away recyclable materials. But it's time for us to realize that recycling is not just a personal choice, but a responsibility that we all have to our planet and future generations.

We can all take small steps to recycle more, such as separating our recyclable materials from our trash and bringing them to recycling centers. We can also support legislation and policies that promote recycling and hold companies accountable for their environmental impact.

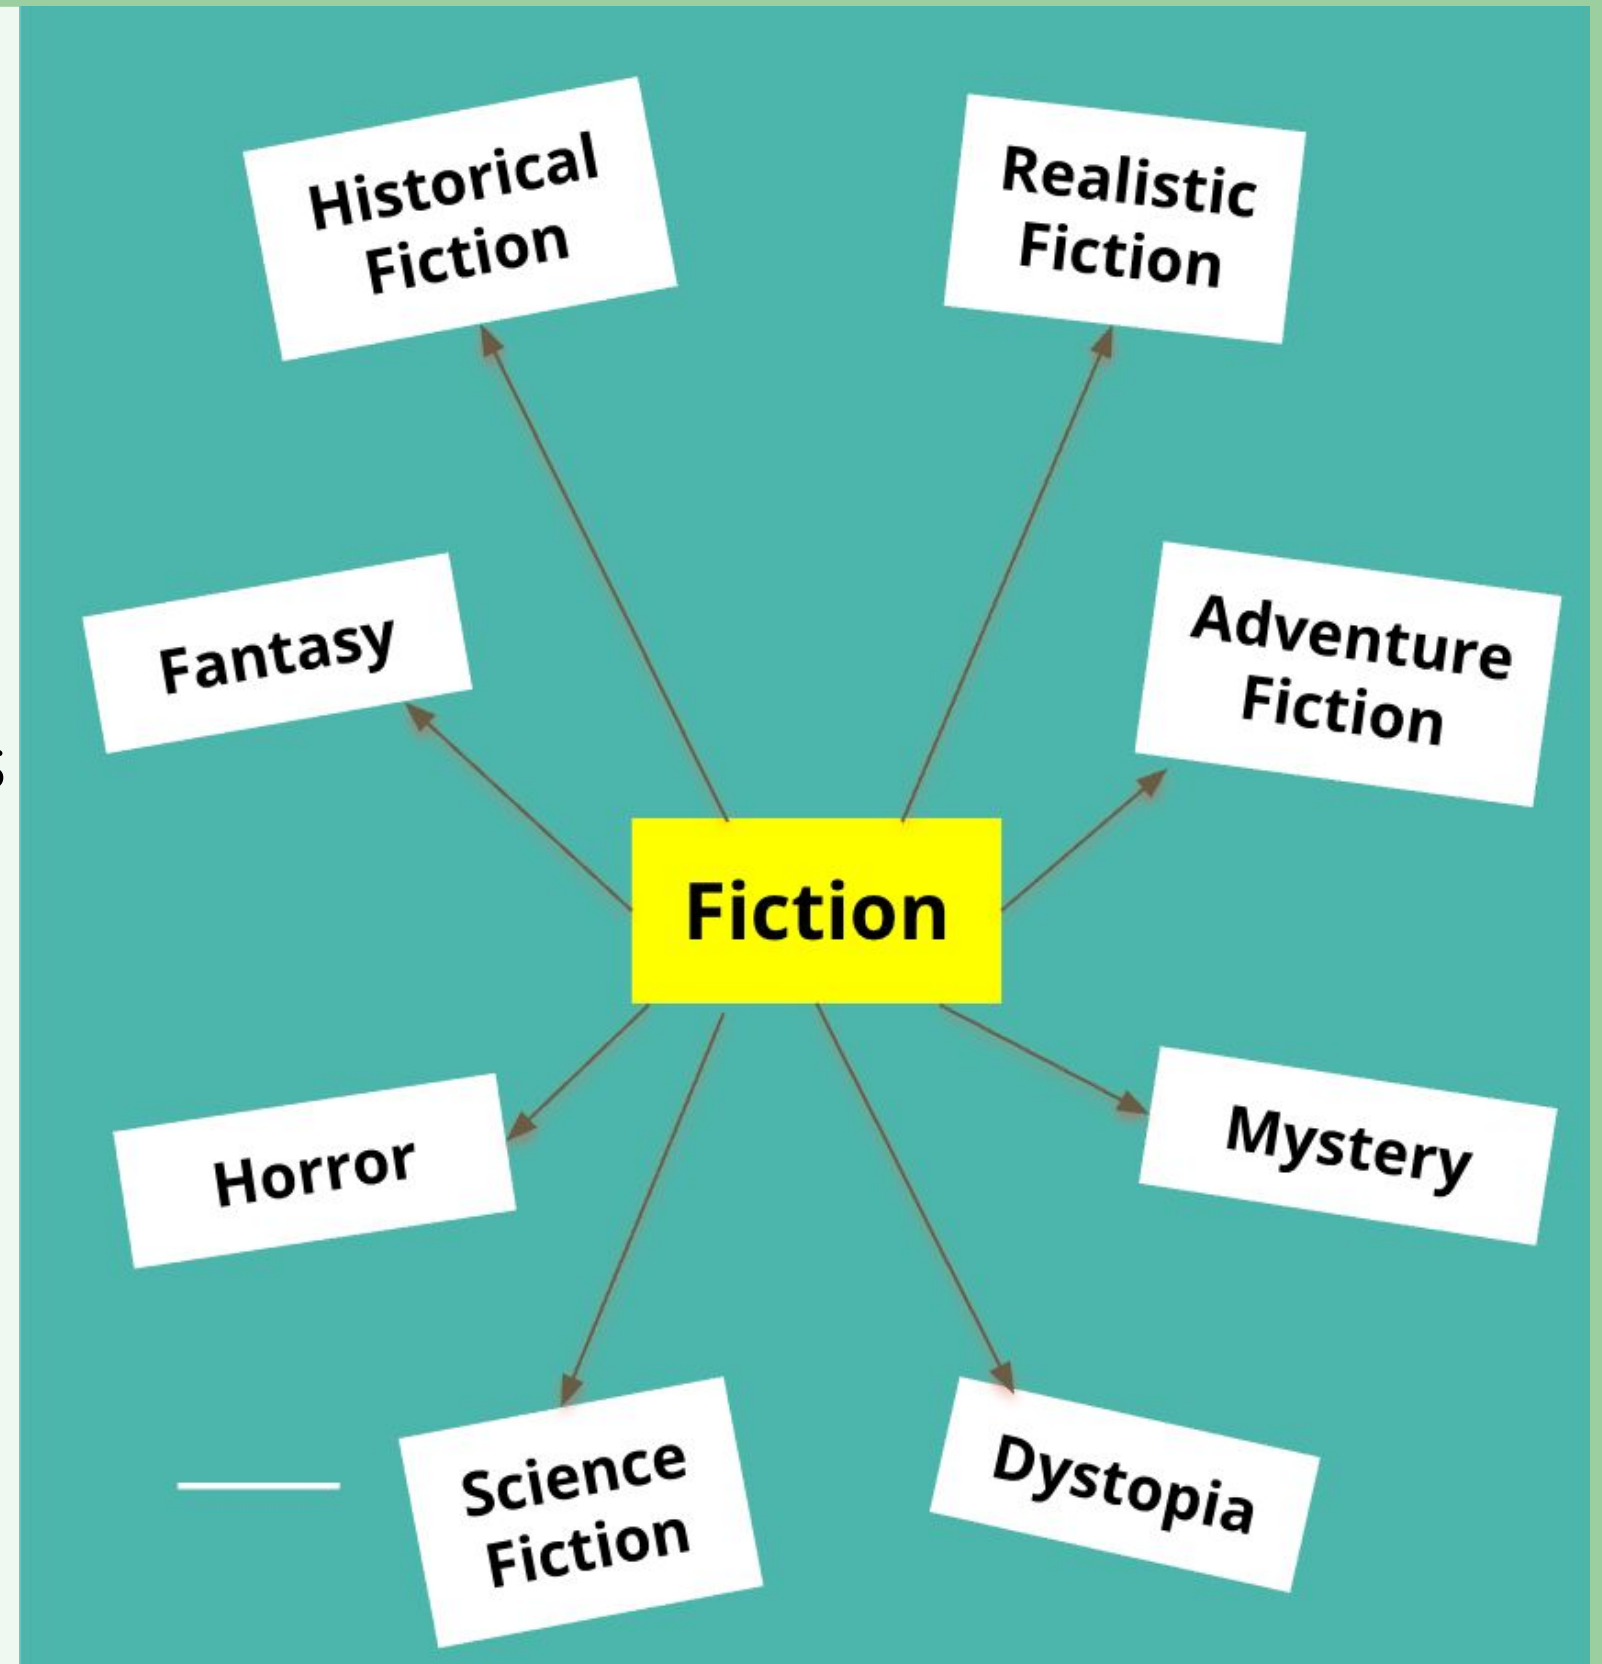

LEARNING TARGET

- I can identify the different sub-genres of fiction texts.
- I can explain the characteristics of different literary genres and subgenres using textual evidence.

FICTION

Fiction is one of the most popular genre that we read.

It is a type of writing that comes from an author's own imagination and tells a story.

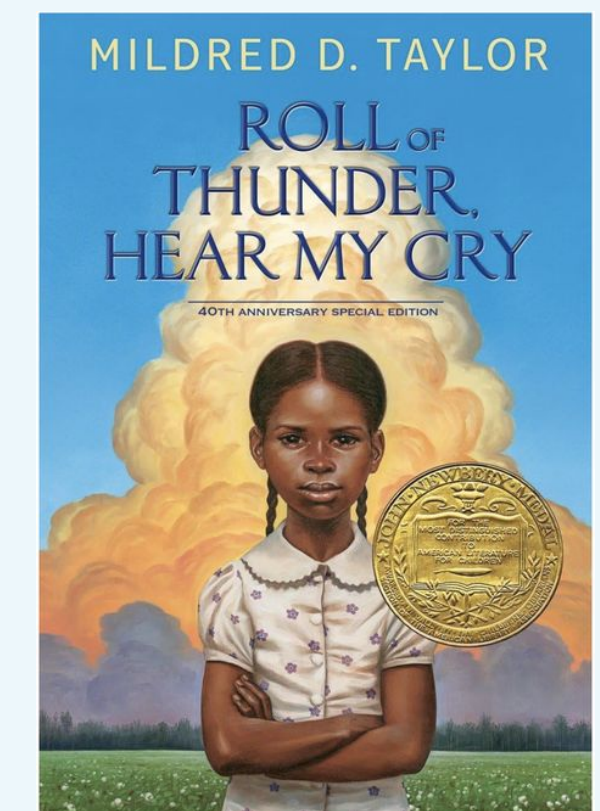

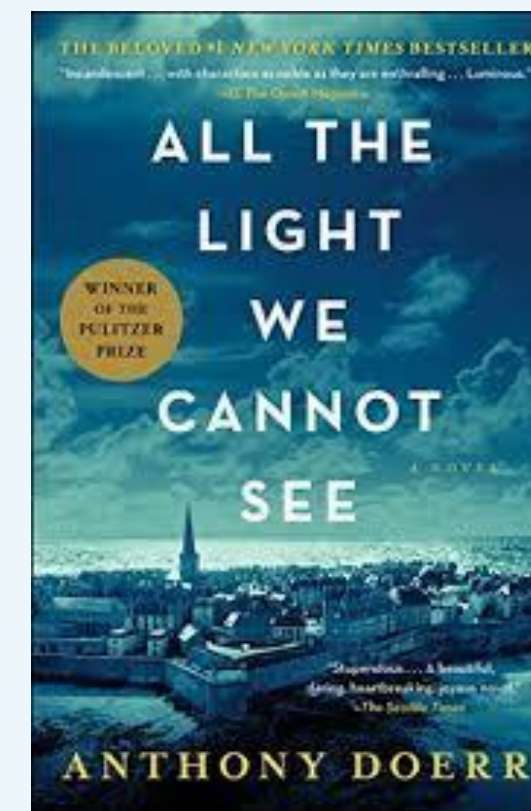

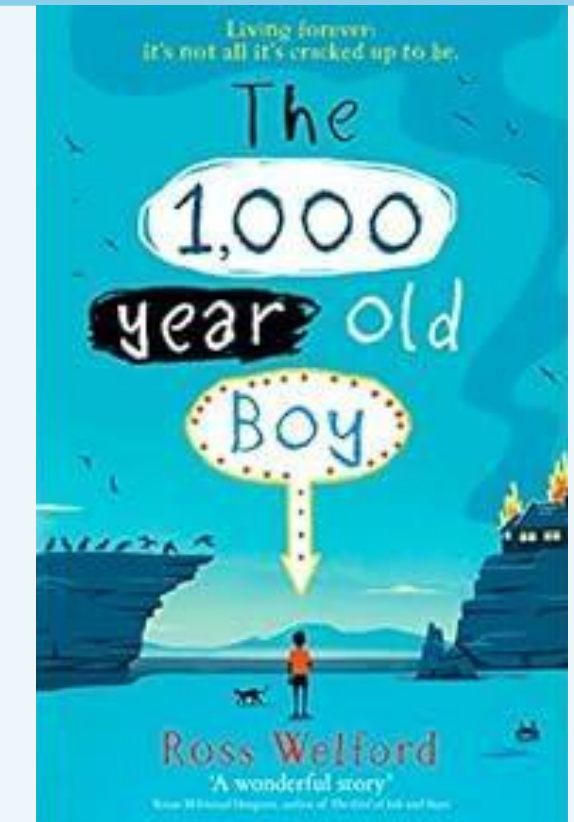

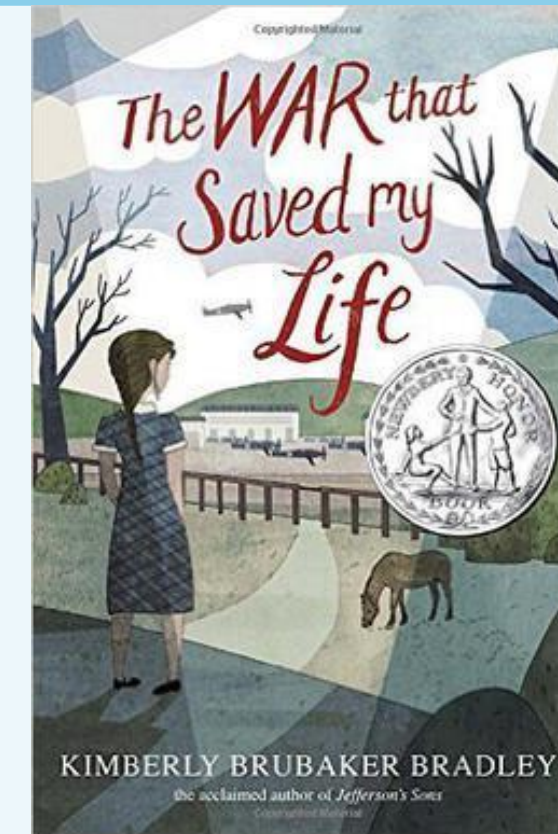

HISTORICAL FICTION

Types Of Characters: real , historical figures and common everyday people who live in their lives during important historical events

Problem: The main characters all show different viewpoints to a common historical event and reveal the stereotypes and prejudices of society.

Setting: Real-life historical events such as Nazi Germany or World War 2.

Author's Intention: The author wants the reader to learn true facts of history and understand the social issues of that time though different perspectives.

Historical Fiction

What is Historical Fiction?

Historical Fiction is a made up story created by the author. The setting and many details included in the story are based on real historical events.

Characteristics of Historical Fiction

- The setting is a real location with a set time period.
- The characters are real people that could be real or made up.
- The plot is a mixture of made up events and events that really happened.

Why do authors write historical fiction?

Authors usually write historical fiction to entertain their reader. They also might be trying to share some information about a time period that is really interesting to them.

Examples of Historical Fiction

Little House on the Prairie by

Laura Ingalls Wilder

Number the Stars

By Lois Lowry

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

By Mark Twain

Bud, Not Buddy

By Christopher Paul Curtis

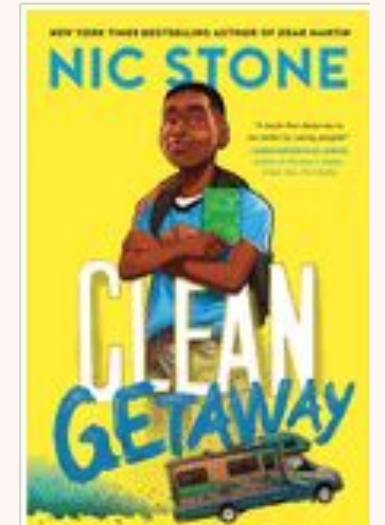

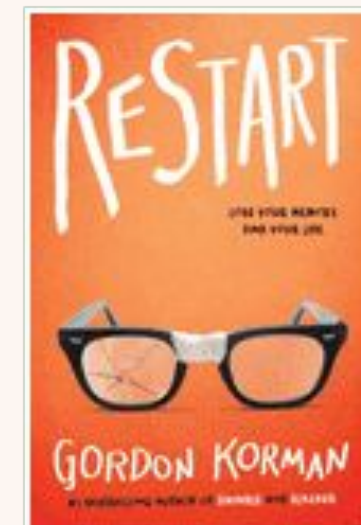

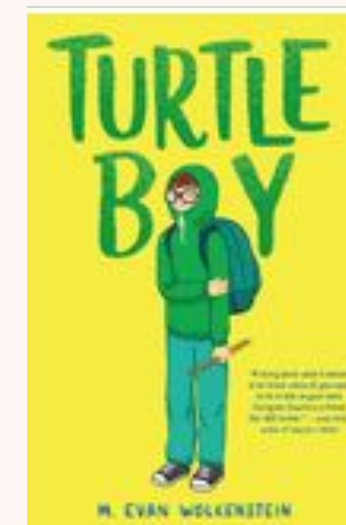

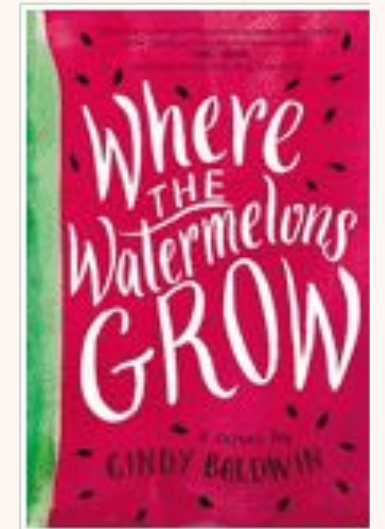

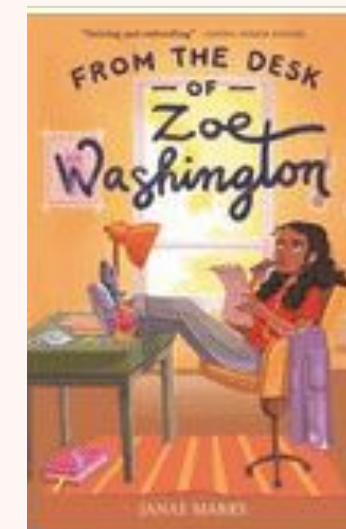

REALISTIC FICTION

Types Of Characters: ordinary , real-life people

Problem: The main character has to deal with common problems that all humans face- such as changes in a friendship , losing a loved one, bullying and peer pressure, facing a fear, etc.

Setting: An ordinary , local place- a small town, a city, or quiet neighbourhood. It's situated in modern times.

Author's Intention: The author wants to show how all people deal with common human problems and how hard work and true support can help us overcome anything.

Realistic Fiction

What is Realistic Fiction?

Realistic Fiction is a story that is made up. The characters, setting, and events are all fake, but they could happen in real life. It is a story that could happen to real people.

Characteristics of Realistic Fiction

- The setting is real.
- The characters are people.
- There is a problem in the story and a realistic solution.
- The author does not use I, me, or my when telling the story.

Why do authors write realistic fiction?

Authors usually write realistic fiction to entertain their readers. The goal is to create a story or character that their reader can connect and relate to.

Examples of Realistic Fiction

Frindle

by Andrew Clements

Double Fudge

by Judy Blume

Ramona Quimby, Age 8 by

Beverly Cleary

There's a Boy in the Girls Bathroom

by Louis Sachar

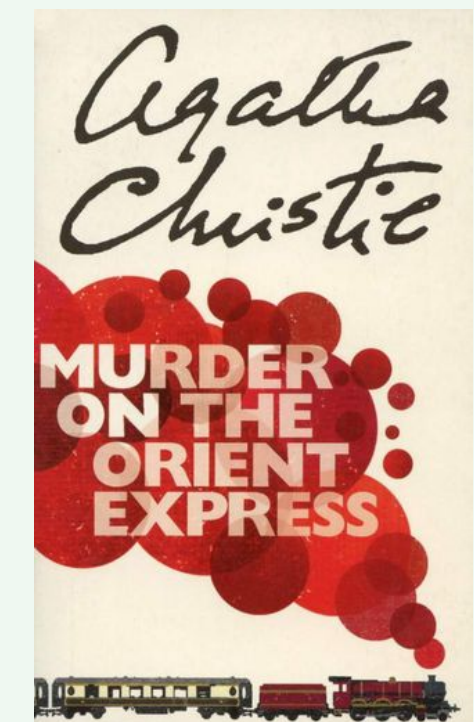

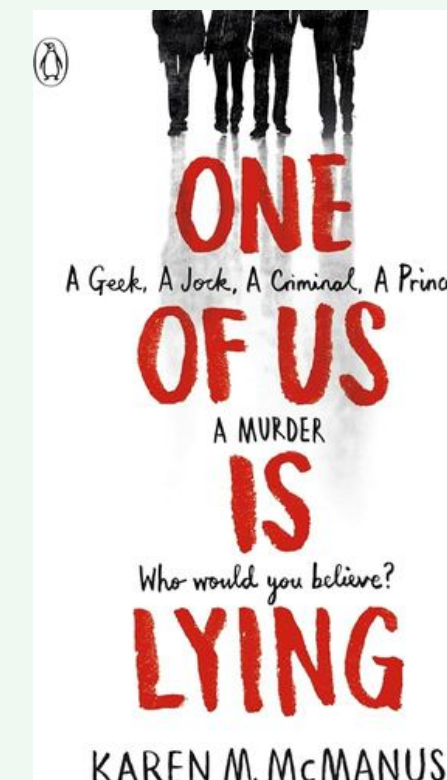

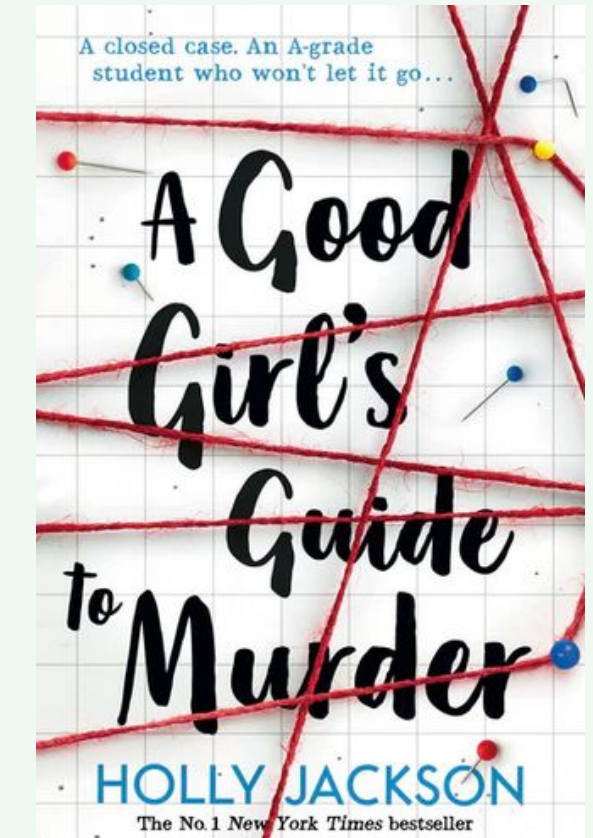

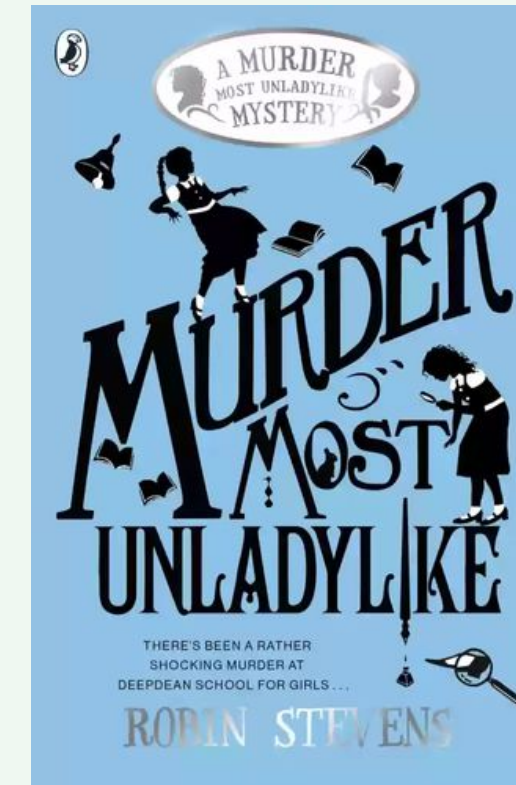

MYSTERY

Types Of Characters: detectives, lawyers, criminals, police , journalists, spies, etc.

Problem: The main characters have to investigate a crime by figuring out the clues and catching the villain. They have to outsmart and force the villain to confess their crimes.

Setting: Real and Unreal - tries to create suspense!

Author's Intention: The author wants the readers to figure out a complicated puzzle and explore different moral issues of what is “good” and “evil “ in a society through showing us why criminals act the way they do.

HORROR / PARANORMAL

Types Of Characters: witches, haunted houses, ghosts, shadows, vampires, possessed humans, etc.

Problem: The main characters have to escape a terrifying supernatural force. Often, they have to correct a mistake and bring peace and rest in order to free themselves.

Setting: Unreal - creates dread and disgust (fantasy)
(setting contains or HAS the supernatural force)

Author's Intention: The author wants the reader to feel terrified and scared by exploring our deepest fears as humans that are immoral and dangerous.

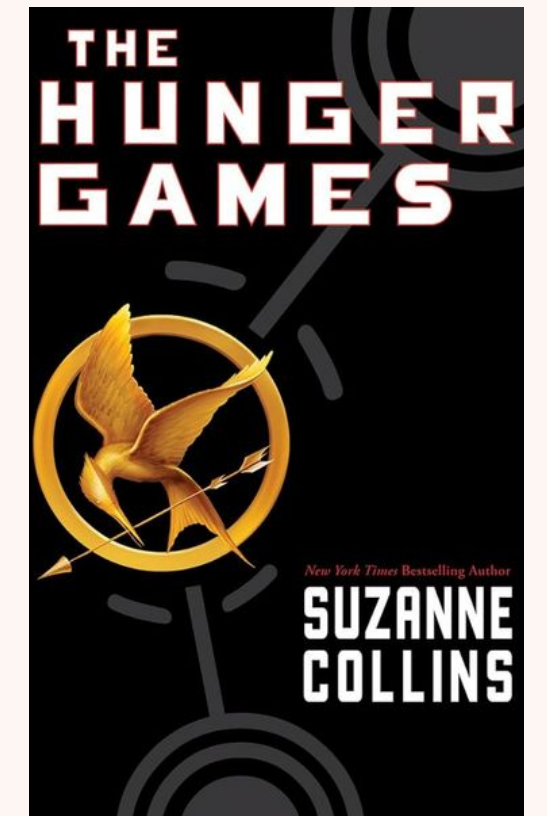

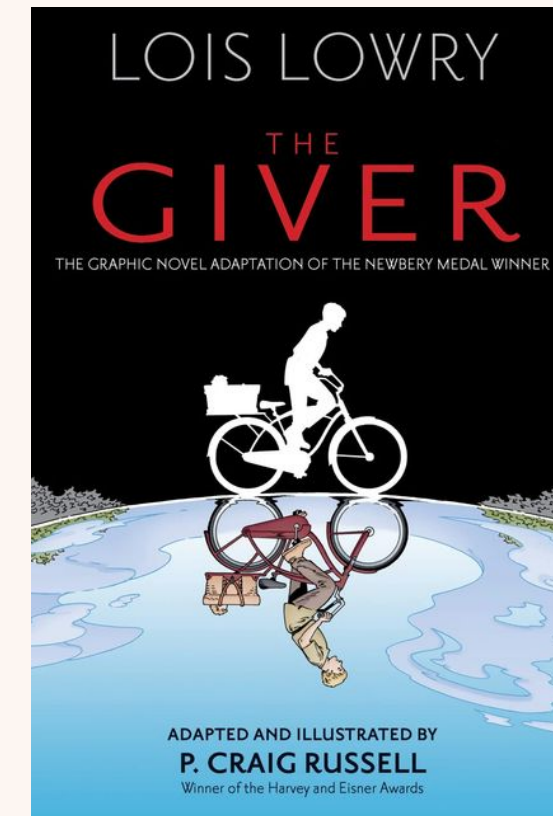

DYSTOPIA

Types Of Characters: rebels, spies, secret government agents, power-hungry corrupt officials

Problem: A small group of rebellious and free-thinking people have to fight against a corrupt system or government that is determined to control their rights and freedoms

Setting: Real and Unreal - societies have major wars, social inequality, mass poverty, environmental devastation, anarchy.

Author's Intention: The author wants to show us how standing up for freedom and justice against oppression is the right thing to do.

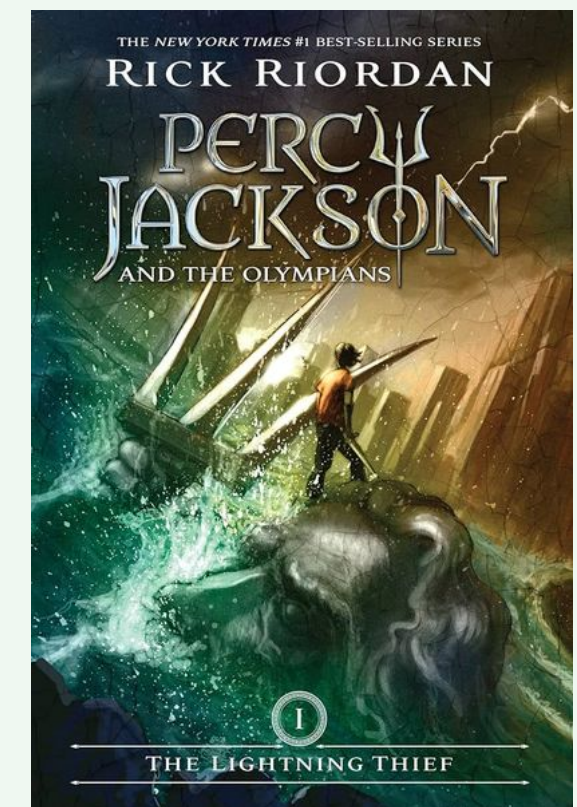

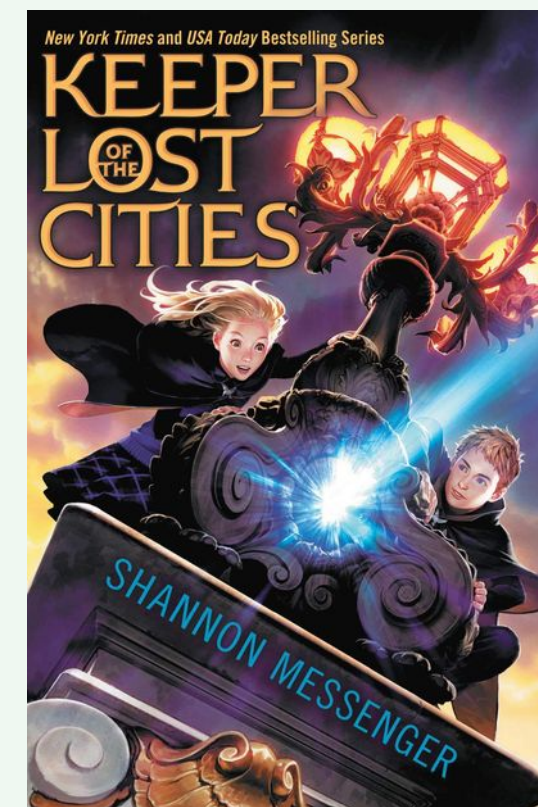

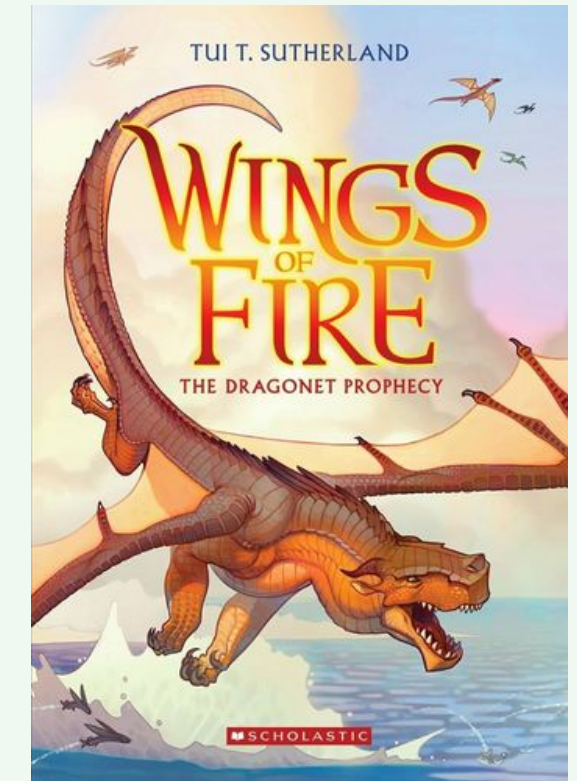

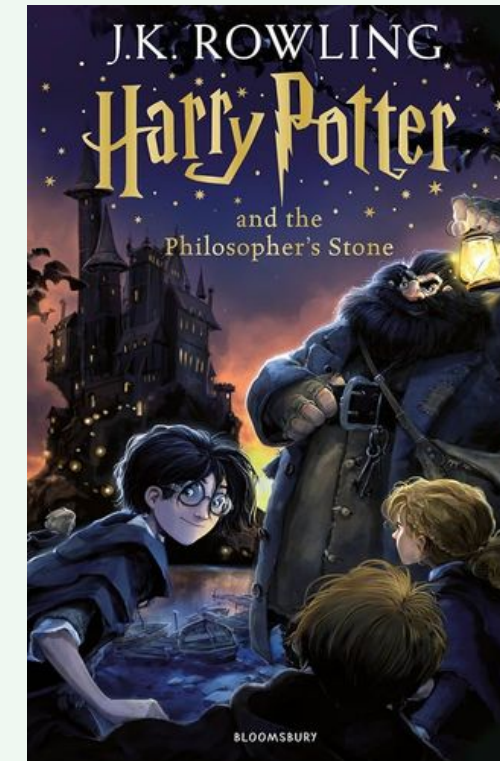

FANTASY

Types Of Characters: elves, dwarves, magicians, dragons, humans, goblins, princes, princesses, etc

Problem: The main character has unique abilities and powers which they have to learn how to control. They make friends and learn from mentors in order to defeat a powerful villain who is using magic to destroy society.

Setting: Unreal - fantasy worlds, countries, cities with unique features . It's beautifully crafted to lure you in.

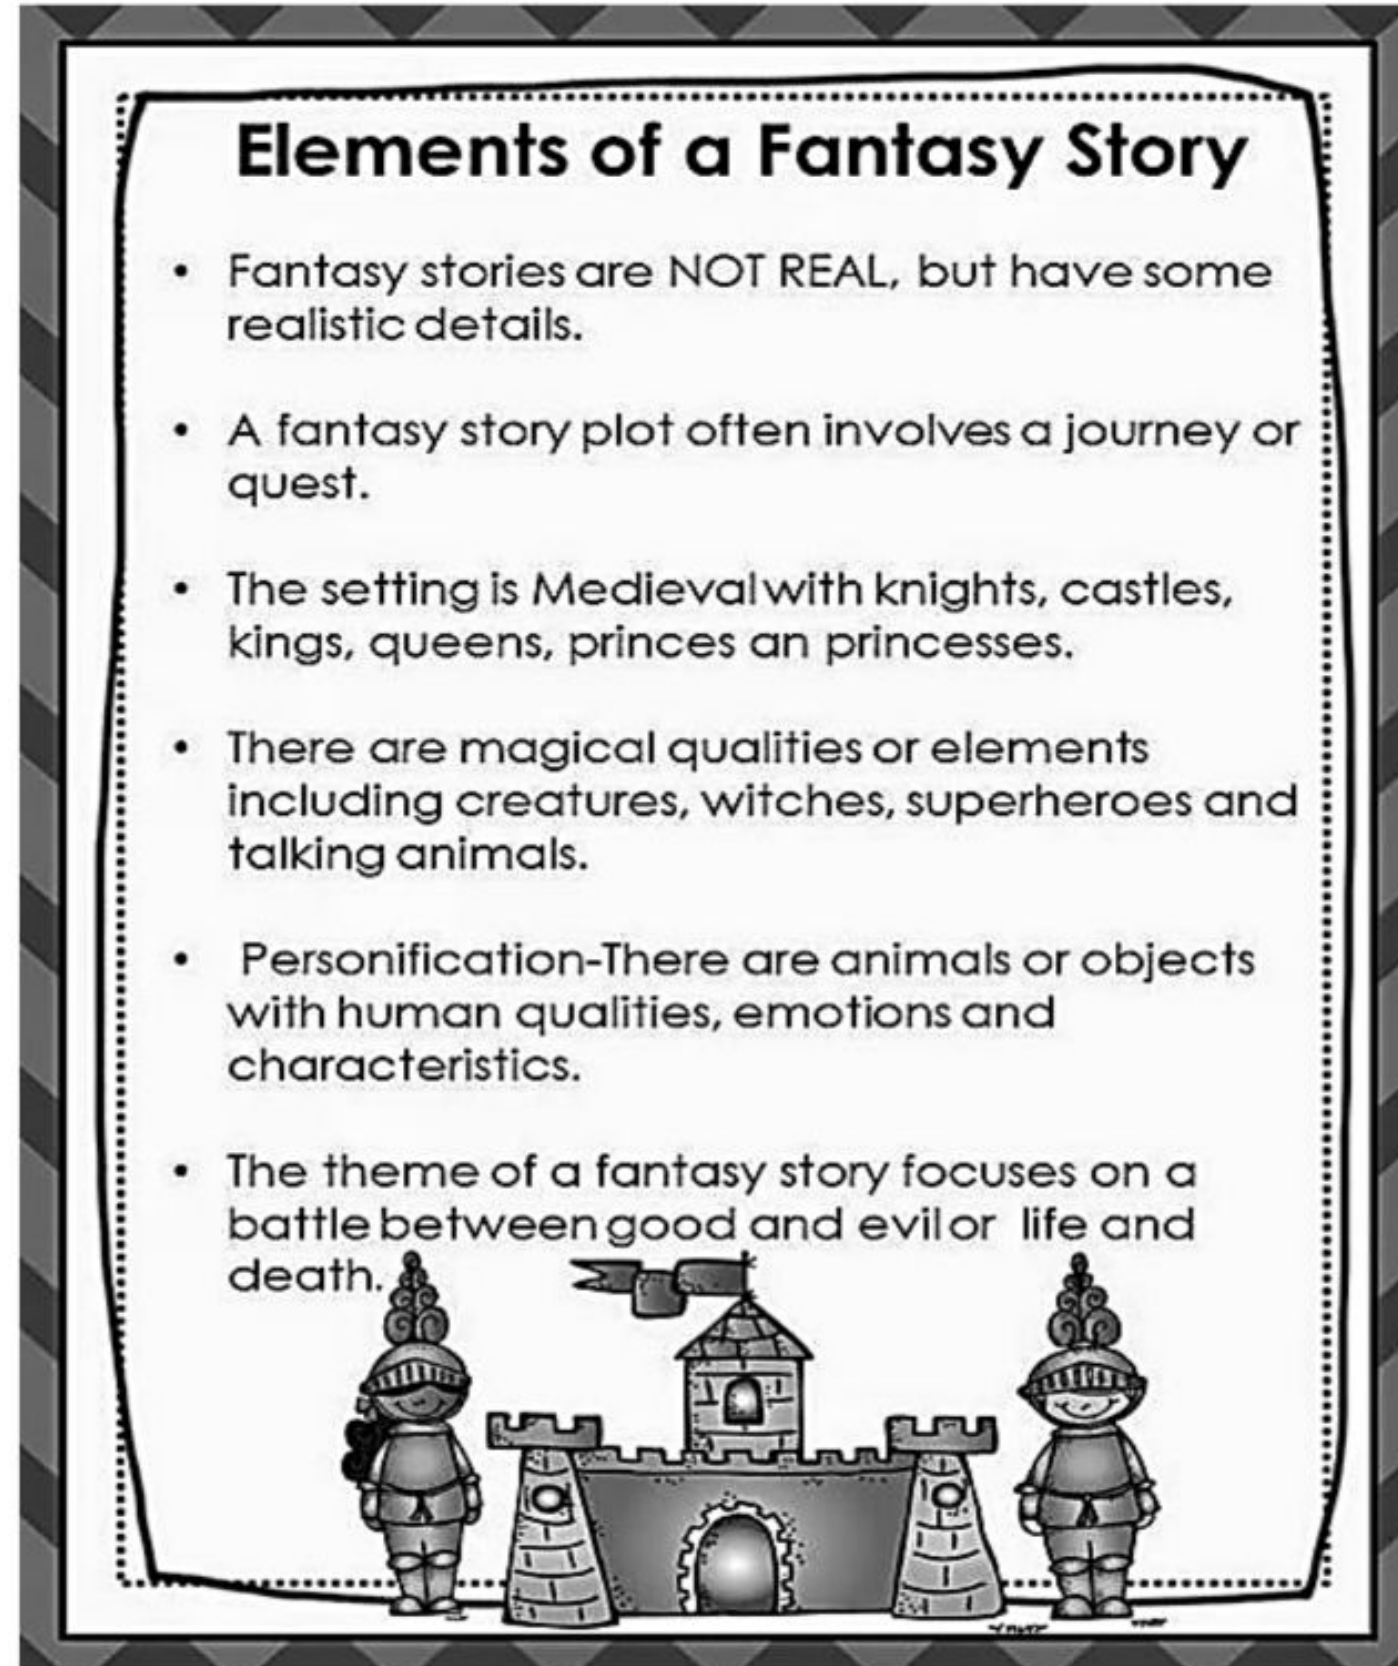

Author's Intention: The author wants to show how bravery, love, and friendship can defeat power-hungry villains.

II. Fantasy

Fantasy literature is literature set in an imaginary universe, often but not always without any locations, events, or people from the real world. Magic, the supernatural and magical creatures are common in many of these imaginary worlds. Fantasy literature may be directed at both children and adults.

a. Modern Fantasy

b. Different Types of Traditional Literature:

Traditional Literature is a genre of stories passed down through many generations by word of mouth.

FAIRY TALES	FABLES	MYTHS	LEGENDS	TALL TALES
Once upon a time Royalty (King & Queen) Animals	Very Short Stories Animals acting like people 3 or less	Gods and Goddesses	Everyday People exaggerated admirable characteristics elevate them to the category of true heroes.	Based on the life person Everyday human with superhuman abilities
Castle Forest	Generally outside somewhere	ancient, mystical, otherworldly, mysterious, heavenly	set in a certain time and environment takes place in real place, fantastic and imaginary elements sometimes visible	Linked to a real historical time period
Good vs Evil	Only one problem using trickery	Explains something that happens in nature by using gods or/and goddesses Good- rewarded bad - punished	mostly character vs character	Problem solved in a humorous way
Magical They lived Happily Ever After	Ends with a moral or lesson	Can teach a lesson	comes with a moral or a lesson usually	Exaggerated details Tells about a person's accomplishment

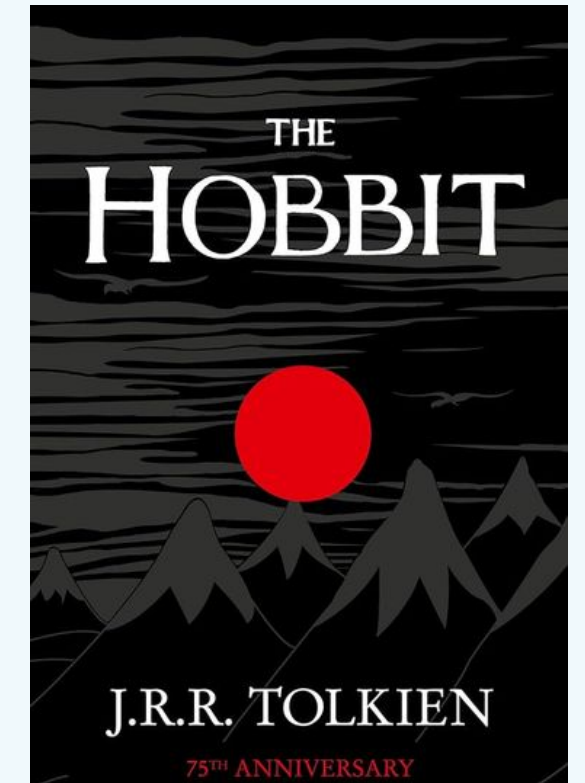

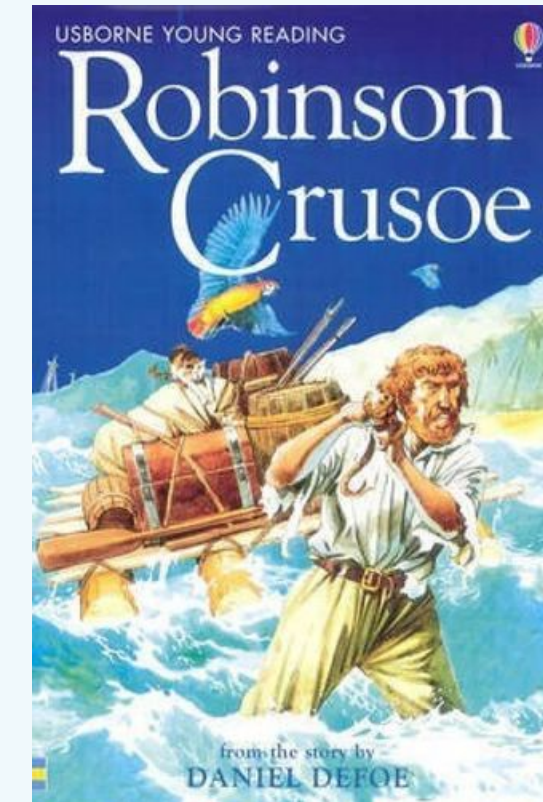

ADVENTURE FICTION

Types Of Characters: Realistic characters of all ages and backgrounds

Problem: Characters have to survive a journey with many physical challenges in order to understand who they truly are.

Setting: Wild Nature - uninhabited islands ; dangerous forests and mountains, rough seas, etc.

Author's Intention: The author wants to show us how people can be courageous, resourceful, and brave in order to survive.

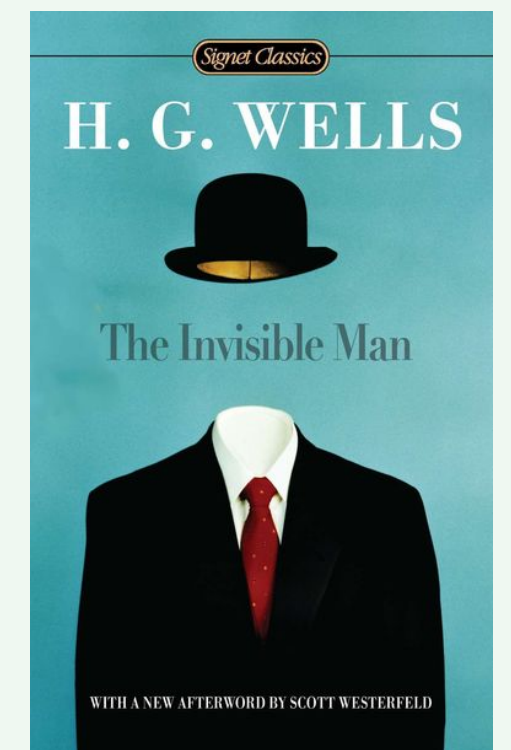

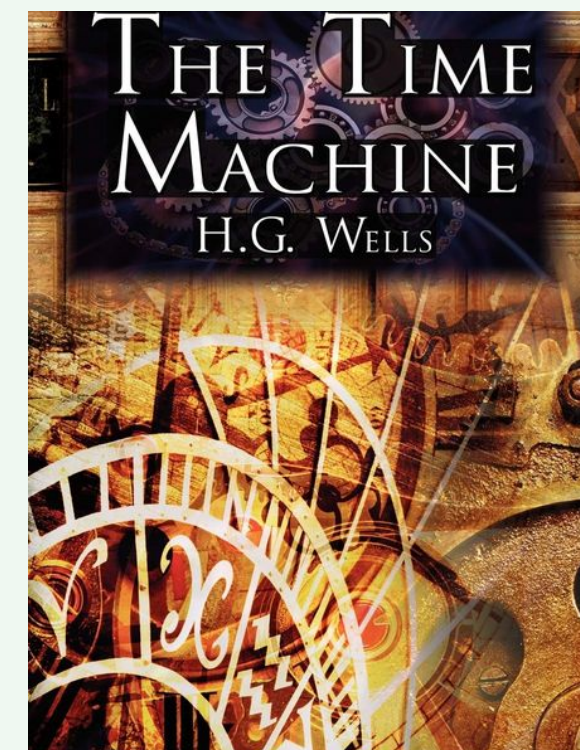

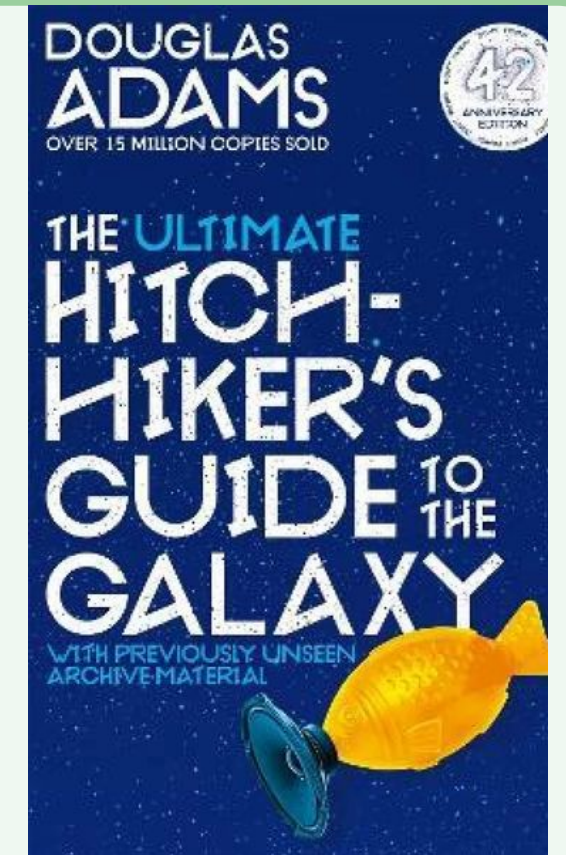

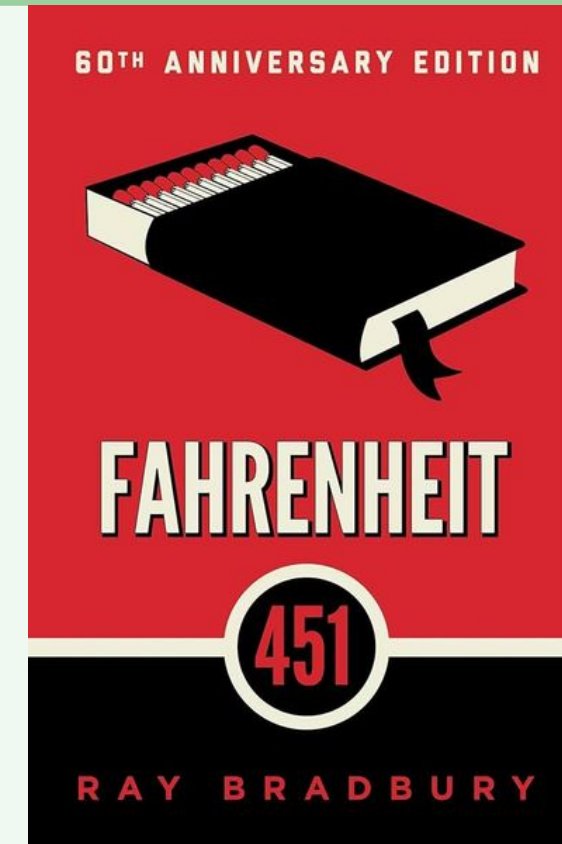

SCIENCE FICTION

Types Of Characters: Futuristic technology, scientists, robots, aliens, explorers, astronauts, space-time travellers, etc.

Problem: Scientists explore different universes with advanced scientific technology and need to defeat terrifying weapons and alien creatures in order to save humanity.

Setting: alternate universes , alien planets , futuristic universes

Author's Intention: The author wants to show us how advancements in scientific technology leads to exploring new worlds and how different civilisations deal with problems of peace, war , resource allocation , diplomacy, etc.

Science Fiction

What is Science Fiction?

Science Fiction is a made up story that has a focus on futuristic science or technology. The setting might take place in space or on a made up planet.

Characteristics of Science Fiction

- Fictional or narrative story.
- Incorporates elements of technology or science.
- Tells about supernatural events.
- Events that happen in the story could not happen in real life.

Why do authors write science fiction?

Authors write science fiction to entertain their readers. They want to share a creative story that allows their reader to imagine the future.

Examples of Science Fiction

The Giver

By Lois Lowry

A Wrinkle in Time

By Madeline L'Engle

Have Space Suit, Will Travel

By Robert Heinlein

Fortunately, The Milk

By Neil Gaiman

HAVE A GO

"Fallen Walkers" by Wells Taylor Dyson

Far below the surface of Earth, a group of children engage in a secret government program. They are trained to pilot Mech-Walkers, which are giant mechanical insects. These kids protect Earth from hostile space barbarians using their robo insect powers.

Discuss in pairs and write in your notebook.

APPLICATION TASK

Look into your library book or a recent book that you've read and identify the genre and subgenre. Give reasons to explain your answer.

Respond in your notebook.